Y. W. C. A. HAS NEW CABINET OFFICERS

Report on Year's Work and This Year's Plans

Old and New Presidents Preside at the Meeting Thursday

The weekly Y. W. C. A. meeting was held in the old chapel last Thursday afternoon at 4:45. The meeting was conducted jointly by the president, Ruth Hesselgrave, and Ruth Holland, the newly elected president. Reports of the work done by the different committees were given by their chairmen. Louetta Haynes, the annual member, gave an interesting report of her trip to the convention at New York. Ruth Hesselgrave then gave a short summary of what has been accomplished during the year. Ruth Holland spoke very briefly of her plans for the ensuing year and read a list of the new cabinet members which is as follows:

Helen Stilphen, vice-president and chairman of membership committee.

Mildred Hubbard, treasurer and chairman of finance committee.

Janet Taylor, secretary.

Alice Tomlinson, chairman of social committee.

Madine Rogers, chairman of social service committee.

Mabel Hoyt, chairman of Bible study committee.

Margaret Shay, chairman of missionary committee.

Evelyn Frary, chairman of music committee.

Ethel Putnam, chairman of Association News committee.

Louetta Haynes, chairman of religious meetings committee.

There was a joint meeting of the old and new Y. W. C. A. cabinets in Pearsons social hall last Thursday evening. After the business meeting at which many of the problems of the Association were discussed the girls toasted marshmallows and spent a social evening.

Sigma Kappa Initiates

The annual initation of Nu of Sigma Kappa was held Saturday afternoon, March 16, at the sorority rooms. The initiates were Ruth Adams, Isabel Bardwell, Edith Cowles, Ruth Johnson and Dorothea Whitney. In the evening a banquet was enjoyed by the members and their guests in the form of a "War Supper". It was entirely planned and carried out by the members of the chapter. The guests of honor were Miss Hila Small, a former grand president and Miss Hattie M. Baker, the chapter inspector, both of the Boston chapter. Mrs. Gladys Wilson Bundy '13 was the toastmistress and other guests were Adelaide Ross '15, Harriet Blakeman '14, Harriet Grandy '14, Vera Arnold '15, and Miss Gertrude Ilsley.

$400,000 IS NEW GOAL IN COLLEGE LIBERTY ENDOWMENT FUND

General Education Board Makes Offer of $75,000 Toward It and Only $85,000 Now Needed to Win

Status of Fund Shown Graphically—Only 273 Alumni out of 1740 Have as Yet Participated in Saving the College from Its War Crisis

The big effort which alumni and friends of Middlebury College are making to raise the $300,000 Endowment Fund is being rewarded in an encouraging manner.

Last Commencement an unknown friend of the College made the offer of $100,000 provided the College raised $200,000 by July 1, 1918. In a brief summary of the work which President Thomas recently gave the student body he announced that the General Education Board, founded in 1902 by John D. Rockefeller and chartered in 1903 by Congress, has pledged $75,000 towards a total of $400,000. In other words this means that if Middlebury succeeds in raising $25,000 more than the amount needed to meet the conditions of the $300,000 offer, the General Education Board will increase the total to $400,000.

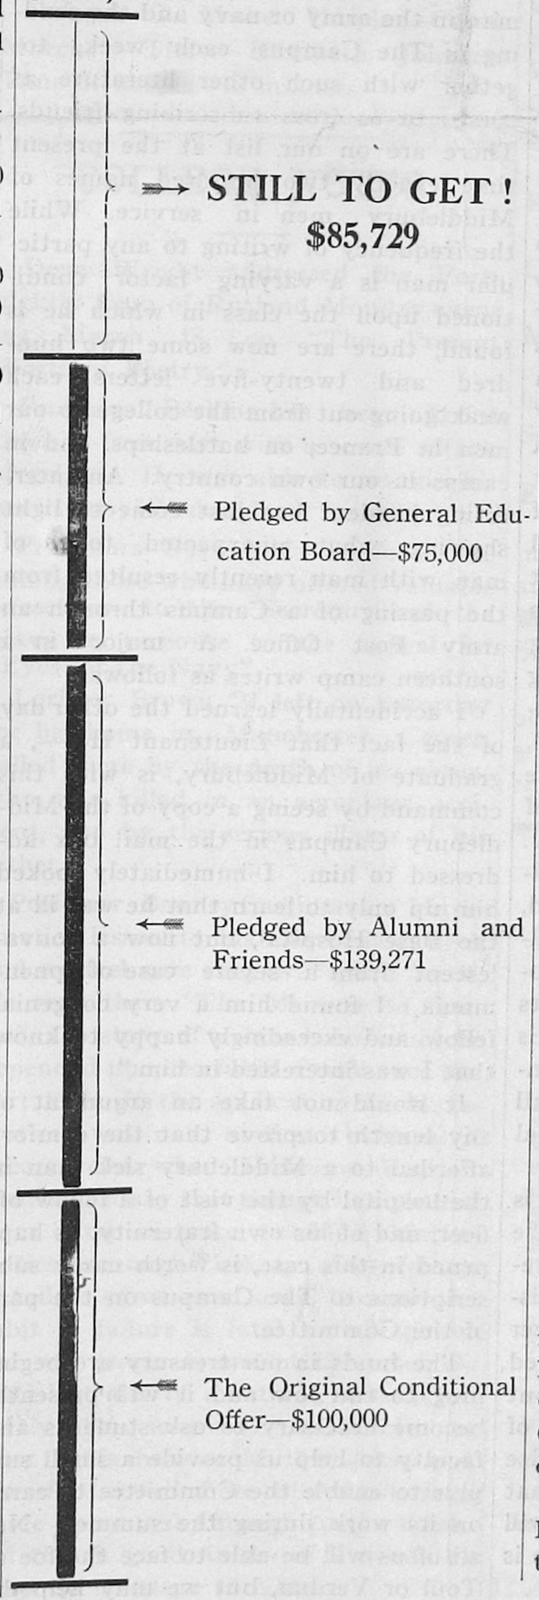
Up to date the fund stands as follows:

The original conditional offer	$100,000
Pledged by alumni and friends	139,271
Pledged by General Education Board	75,000
Bal. needed for $400,00 fund	85,729
	$400,000

Thus far 273 alumni have subscribed from a total of 1740 former Middlebury students. Thirty-six friends of the college have given $55,566 and the $1,000 club founded in New York in the interests of this fund now has 12 members.

The sum of $400,000 will be of untold worth to Middlebury for although the view of the campus will not be materially altered and the benefit will be in a sense invisible, yet the strength of the institution will be materially increased. The prestige and power will be strengthened to a degree which will put the college where every loyal alumnus or friend wishes to see it, on a level with the larger New England colleges. The fact that Middlebury lacks funds to maintain salaries corresponding to those of the colleges to which she should be comparable cannot be denied. Endowments are the very life of a college; the very means by which it is enabled to exist. It is therefore plainly evident that the possession of this Liberty Endowment Fund would mean more to Middlebury than almost any other form of assistance. It would mean a bigger chance for the college to grow through these trying months of war.

Endorsement by the General Education Board is most valuable to the college, for it gives to comparatively few colleges and only to those which it believes to have promise of permanency and exceptional usefulness, and whose financial administration is sound. The fact that this will be its second gift to Middlebury indicates also that in the judgment of the Board the effort was timely and well advised in spite of war conditions for the Board has been among the largest givers to war enterprises The purpose of the Board has been stated as being "the promotion of education within the United States of America, without distinction of race, sex or creed". The principal object for which its income is expended is the increasing of the endowments of deserving universities and colleges of mediocre rank.



CAPT. GIBSON TALKS OF MODERN WAR

"Art of Killing People" Now Highly Specialized

Expects to Open Recruiting Station at Court House Soon

The students taking military Art. II. were favored last Wednesday afternoon by a most interesting and instructive address by Captain Gibson of the United States Army. Although an analysis of the tactics of the Battle of Fredericksburg was scheduled for that time, the unexpected arrival of the Captain caused a change from the discussion of warfare as practised by our grandfathers to warfare as carried on by our friends and brothers.

In his address Captain Gibson brought out the qualities which every soldier must possess if his company is to be efficient. These qualities are loyalty and obedience. He said that no private may hope to win promotion if he neglects these cardinal things.

The main theme of his talk was an explanation of the working of the army in Europe at the present time. The Captain said that under the new dispensation everyone must be a specialist in the "art of killing people", efficiency being the keynote.

And thus each squad is assigned to a particular line of work in which it specializes. For instance, one squad may be made up of grenadiers, armed with hand grenades. Then there are the squads with grenadier rifles, the squads with automatic rifles, and the squads with trench knives. All these

Political and Economic Aspects of the War

Notwithstanding the fact that there was a powerful counter attraction downtown in the person of Mary Pickford, there was a record attendance at the Y. M. C. A. meeting Wednesday night, March 13, when forty men heard Professor Abbott give the second talk in the series on "Christianity and the War." He began by giving a summary of the causes of war in general, such as tribal animosities, personal ambitions of rulers, religious and ecclesiastical jealousies, national growth and expansion, and economic rivalries. Some of these causes have ceased to exist, but unfortunately the last two are still productive of friction and strife. It appears that it will take something more than international agreements and a world court to prevent future wars. In other words, economic rivalry must give place to intellectual and spiritual ideals. "The Church, or better, the religion of Christ must be made predominant and effective in the world."

At the meeting March 20 Professor Lawrence will speak on "Reconstruction After the War."

EDITORIAL

A new factor in the Endowment Fund campaign challenges our very earnest attention. The conditional gift by the General Education Board of $75,000 should prove an effective stimulus to further sacrifices on the part of our alumni, and even undergraduates where possible, to do their full share in securing the ever-increasing prosperity of the College after the war. For a war-time venture, the $400,000 Liberty Endowment Drive is nothing short of spectacular, and the unprecedented opportunity for steady growth against tremendous odds ought to appeal to the animated spirits of all our young patriots who are looking for "big things" to do just now. The materialist and the idealist are alike inspired, for the success of this drive will give freer scope for the effective practice of our ideals through material prosperity. The far-reaching benefits of the College, however, cannot be measured, and in our judgment will depend almost entirely on the character and provision of the men who administer its affairs. Certainly, measured wealth is no criterion of the health of an institution or its value to society. We shall hope that in our eagerness for financial success this will not be lost sight of.

The issue before us just now is whether we have stuff enough to seize the opportunity so fortunately presented at this critical period in our history. The moral significance of either success or failure is directly increased by the increased opportunity held out to us. Unusual strength at a time of anticipated weakness will emphasize that strength; while the colleges that weather the war most successfully will reap the greatest benefits when peace is assured.

The succeeding issue of The Campus will mark the close of another administration in behalf of the students of Middlebury College. The annual elections will be held the 25th of March, and the new Board will be announced in the next issue. The issue of April 3 will be in the hands of our successors, and we will watch with keen interest their success and the support which they receive from the students and alumni. We have endeavored to prepare for them as clear a way as possible, and we would urge upon all who are sincerely interested in the welfare of the College to lend them their loyal support and helpful criticism in order that the trying period of the war may be successfully passed. Whatever have been the mistakes of the old Board, its efforts have been directed with all sincerity to assist in the developing of a better Middlebury, safe for the democratic principles which our College upholds as its ideal. And in this spirit we urge that you receive the new Board, which will labor for the same greater ends.

CONTRIBUTIONS

To the Editor of The Campus:—

Not all of the students, and certainly not all of the readers of The Campus, know to what proportions the work of the War Service Committee has grown. Just now the main effort of the Committee is directed toward the writing of cheerful letters to every Middlebury man in the army or navy and the sending of The Campus each week, together with such other literature as comes to us from subscribing friends. There are on our list at the present time exactly two hundred names of Middlebury men in service. While the frequency of writing to any particular man is a varying factor conditioned upon the class in which he is found, there are now some two hundred and twenty-five letters each week going out from the college to our men in France, on battleships, and in camps in our own country. An interesting incident has just come to light showing what unexpected touch of man with man recently resulted from the passing of a Campus through an army Post Office. A major in a southern camp writes as follows:

"I accidentally learned the other day of the fact that Lieutenant H——, a graduate of Middlebury, is with this command by seeing a copy of the Middlebury Campus in the mail box addressed to him. I immediately looked him up only to learn that he was ill at the Base Hospital, but now a convalescent from a severe case of pneumonia. I found him a very congenial fellow and exceedingly happy to know that I was interested in him."

It would not take an argument of any length to prove that the comfort afforded to a Middlebury sick man in the hospital by the visit of a fellow officer, and of his own fraternity, as happened in this case, is worth many subscriptions to The Campus on the part of the Committee.

The funds in our treasury are beginning to run low and it will presently become necessary to ask students and faculty to help us provide a small surplus to enable the Committee to carry on its work during the summer. Not all of us will be able to face the foe at Toul or Verdun, but we may help defeat him by a small contribution to this fund which endeavors to encourage in all ways those who are fighting our battles for us.

Myron R. Sanford,
Chairman of Committee.

Clothing for France and Belgium.

The United States Government has sent an urgent appeal to the Red Cross to furnish a ship-load of clothing for the destitute of France and Belgium. The local Red Cross has been assigned 1600 pounds of this amount to be collected in the near future.

The Middlebury College War Service Committee has determined to assist all that it can in this emergency, and it will undertake to secure a considerable share from among college students to assist the local chapter. The call is sudden and unexpected, and necessitates energetic action. Old worn-out clothes of every description will be most acceptable, and shoes are particularly in demand as leather is very scarce across the water and especially in those countries. The students have been urged to do all in their power to help along this work of mercy. Miss Courtemanche and Mr. Burckes have been asked to assist in the collection for the college.

The Red Cross rooms will be open Thursday and Saturday afternoons to receive the goods as they come in. It is not asked that the clothes be mended.

ALUMNI NOTES

'05. The name of Isabel M. Blake has been added to the Middlebury War Service list. Miss Blake sailed last week and her address will be Care Am. Red Cross Commission to Palestine with British Expeditionary Forces in Egypt.

'15. Miss E. Joy Rose is teaching practical arts in the Howard School, Springfield, Mass. Her address is 302 Chicopee St., Chicopee, Mass.

'19. Richard A. Reuther, who is in the 13th Company of the Depot Brigade at Camp Devens, has been promoted to a Corporalcy.

ex-'20. The announcement of Katherine Allen's engagement to Mr. Forrest P. Nelson of Cornell University has been made recently.

WHO'S WHO

Louis Winslow Austin was born at Orwell, Vermont, on October 30, 1867, and is the son of Lewis Augustine Austin, (who was for many years Professor at Middlebury College, and later at Rollins College, Winter Park, Florida), and Mary Louise Taft, both of them Vermonters. He prepared for college at Middlebury High School and graduated from Middlebury College in 1889; studied physics at Emperor Wilhelm University, Strassburg, 1889-1890; was a fellow at Clark University, 1890-1891; then returned to Strassburg and received his Ph. D. degree in 1893; he was instructor and later Assistant Professor of Physics at the University of Wisconsin, 1893-1901; then spent two years in Germany at the Phys. Tech. Reichsanstalt, Berlin, with the well known physicist, Prof. Kohlrausch, with whom he had studied in Strassburg. The Reichsanstalt is a Government institution something like the Bureau of Standards and it is unusual for a foreigner to receive appointment to its staff of workers. After this work was completed Dr. Austin returned to Washington and took up research work at the Bureau of Standards. His studies and experiments had to do particularly with that part of physics which is fundamental to wireless telegraphy and it was logical that Dr. Austin should be appointed head of the U. S. Naval Radio Telegraphic Laboratory, to which he was appointed September 1, 1908, with an office at the Navy Department and a laboratory at the Bureau of Standards. Dr. Austin has carried on extensive, important, and very successful research work, and is acknowledged one of the world's authorities in wireless problems. He was United States Delegate to the International Wireless Congress held in London in 1912 and is a member of a number of learned societies including Societe Francaise de Physique and is the author of many papers and a contributor to German, English and American scientific journals. In 1898 Dr. Austin married Laura A. Osborn of LaCrosse, Wis., a graduate of the University of Wisconsin. His home is in Cleveland Park, Washington. He is a member of a number of clubs and has a host of friends.

Latin Play at Brandon

Friday evening at the Brandon High school, a Latin play, "The Roman School" was presented to an enthusiastic audience of over a hundred. Miss Dorothy Brown '18, a delegate from "Latin Methods Class", accompanied by Miss Helen Clift '18, brought back an interesting account of the play. It consisted of one scene which opened with the entrance of the "discipli"—intent on playing ball, marbles, and other games. With the coming of the "magister" the school began. The roll was called, then the pupils were drilled in conjugations and declensions. This was followed by gymnastic exercises, reciting of poems, and the reading of essays, accompanied by the ceremony of crowning the prize winner —"Cicero"— with a laurel-wreath by "Julia". An interesting feature was the singing of "Milites Christiani, bello pergite"—the Latin version of "Onward Christian Soldiers" which emphasized the delightfully modern touch which pervaded the entire production.,

KRAZY KORNER

Talking about powers of imagination, it is impossible to imagine just how great a person's imaginative abilities really are without imagining out an up to date imagination test. If you can imagine more of the specified imaginations than some other imagined imaginator, then you may safely imagine that your imaginative faculties will give to the mind a good image whenever the scope for the imagination is imaginative.

Try this simple imaginative imagination test and imagine the scope of your own imagination:—

Can you imagine:

Crippen without his smile?

Prof. Abbott forgetting to assign supplementary reading?

Kasper knowing his lesson in English Literature?

What we would do if the world came to an end while we were in Ped 4?

What indisposition gives Furber the blues?

Doc Ross hurrying to catch a train?

Hinchey in a sunbonnet?

Pres. Thomas and Dean Wright flipping pennies in Chapel?

Prof. Davison giving a cut?

Henry Thomas going to sleep in less than three of his classes each day?

Cohen as a movie actor?

Why the girls sit and watch the boys' camp stools collapse in chapel?

Who put the book inside the piano to embarrass Professor Hathaway?

Who wrote these crazy lines?

Ellsworth taking less than a half hour to drawl through an answer to a professor's question?

Squad Co. B, all present at the same time?

The Campus coming out on time?

The book store being open at 8 a. m.? Nooooo !

Who took the scholarship cup from the social hall?

WHEN WAR WILL END

(From the Lavonia, Gazette)

Absolute knowledge have I none,
But my aunt's washerwoman's sister's son
Heard a policeman on his beat
Say to a laborer on the street,
That he had a letter just last week,
Written in the finest Greek,
From a Chinese Coolie in Tumbuctoo,
Who said the negroes in Cuba knew
Of a colored man in a Texas town,
Who got it straight from a circus clown,
That a man in Klondike heard the news
From a gang of South American Jews
About somebody in Borneo,
Who heard a man who claimed to know
Of a swell society female fake,
Whose mother-in-law will undertake
To prove that her seventh husband's sister's niece,
Had stated in a printed piece
That she has a son who has a friend,
Who knows when the war is going to end.

A preliminary game was played between the sophomores and freshmen who were unable to play on their respective class teams because of their inability. The first half enden 1 to 0 in favor of the sophs, due to Woodward's 'foul eye". The second half found the 1920 classmen's team-work immense and they continued to roll up a score which only the whistle could stop. The final outcome is too terrible to print. It is rumored that Miske who refereed even went so far as to actually shoot several baskets for the losers, but no authentic evidence can be found. The game was so fast that the scorer was unable to catch the line-up.

The feature of the game (or rather the features), was that both "Sam" Cohen '20 and "Will" Cohen '21 had EACH a pair of basketball shoes. It was also noted that the center circle was actually large enough for both brothers to stand in at the same time.

Summary—UNKNOWN.

Track Meet

The men who have been working on the track team lately were much disappointed early in the week to hear of the postponement of the indoor meet with Vermont which was scheduled for the 16th. The occasion for its postponement is an epidemic of mumps among the University men which is not expected to last long. The meet will probably be held in the near future.

The main events will be as follows; thirty-yard dash, standing and running high jumps, and standing broad jump, hop-skip-and-jump, a relay race,quarter-mile, half-mile and mile runs, and shotput. There will also be wrestling ling matches in three classes according to weight.

A large squad has reported each week and Coach Murch feels quite optimistic about the work. It has taken the form of interclass contests in which much excellent work has been done.

Concerning the men who will make up the team. nothing definite can be said, but they will probably be picked from the following: Bower '19, Brouwer '21, Brewster '18, Canfield '20, Christian '18, Drew '18, Harford '21, Hebard '19, Jones '19, Farnham '20, Keppler '21, Murnane '21, Myrick '18, Thomas '20, Vroom '20.

Juniors Will Hold Prom

A short but important meeting of the junior class was held in the old chapel Friday, March 15, at 1:30 p.m. The report of the committee which had been appointed to see if the holding of a "Junior Prom" is advisable was given in the affirmative. The class accepted the report and voted to hold the "Prom" early in May.

The following committee was appointed: Adkins, chairman; Taylor, Watson, Douglas, Jones, and Misses Tomlinson, Nash, Stilphen and Swan.

Student Government Nominations

A meeting of the Student Goverr ment Association was held in the Hemicycle last Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock to nominate officers for the coming year. The lists as posted are; for president, Eleanor Layton, Margaret Shay, Alice Tomlinson; for vice-president,Sylvia Derry; for secretary, Corinne Weber; for treasurer, Elizabeth Johnson, Ruth Clark, Dorothy Nash; fire chief, Laura Fales, Barbara Russell, Lewmina Rickert. These names will be voted on at the next meeting of the Association.

GIRL'S BASKETBALL

The third set of girls' basketball games was played on Tuesday evening, March 12. The senior-junior game ended with a score of 9-4 in favor of the seniors. The freshmen girls won from the sophomores, 6-3. At present the freshmen have three victories, the seniors two, and the juniors one. It seems probable that next week's game between 1918 and 1921 will decide which is to be the champion. This last game showed little brilliant individual playing and the teams were so evenly matched that few goals were made. The line-ups were as follows:

Seniors (7)		Juniors (2)
B. Jennings	l.g.	H. Grover
D. Kendall	r.g.	H. Stilphen
C. Webster	c.	A. Novak
G. Courtemanche	l. f.	E. Layton
M. Chatfield	r.f.	G. Perkins

Goals from floor: 18—Chatfield (1), Webster (2), Courtemanche (1). '19—Grover (1). Goals from foul: Courtemanche (1), Novak (2).

Sophomores (3)		Freshmen (6)
G. Moore	l.g.	E. Novak
E. Foote	r.g.	F. Langley
R. Bruffee	c.	E. Carlson
C. Weber	l.f.	M. Cann
L. Corkran	r.f.	K. Mara

Goals from floor: '21—Cann (1), Mara (1). Goals from foul: Weber (3), Carlson (2).

Referee—G. Miske. Umpire—Coach Murch. —Timer—Elizabeth Johnson. Time of halves—12 minutes.

COLLEGE NOTES

Dean Wright addressed the Fortnightly Club of Rutland Monday evening, March 18, on "The Present Worth of Poetry."

Professor Perkins has been ill for three or four days with a severe attack of grippe. He was able to resume his work this (Wednesday) morning.

Professors Foye and Sanford are among those who have offered valuable telescopes to the Secretary of the Navy in response to the appeal for "Eyes for the Navy".

Lorimer Brown '21 left on Saturday for his home in Manchester Center, called there by the death of his chum, who was killed in an aeroplane accident, and by the serious illness of his father.

Professor Bonney taught a new Mathematics lesson to his classes last week and we feel sure they will profit by it. He read them "The Message to Garcia", the story of a man who could be depended upon to fulfill a task once undertaken. If the application to Mathmatics was not at first evident, it became clear when Professor Bonney went on to say that though it might not seem utter disgrace to flunk Mathematics we ought not to allow failure to follow effort even once, because the habit of failure is fatal to will power and will power is one of the most essential traits of a strong character. Surely this lesson is applicable to other fields besides Mathematics, and it would be well if we all set ourselves to see every task through to the finish, and that a good finish—in a word—to carry the message to Garcia.

Goddard Trims 2nds

Middlebury Seconds fell before Goddard Seminary March 15 in a fast game by the close score of 26 to 32.

The game, which was scheduled for 7:45, did not commence until 8:30 because of the lateness of the train on which the Goddard men came. Despite the fact that they had not eaten since noon and had been on the train for eight hours their team-work and shooting were the best that the Seconds have faced this season.

During the first half the Middlebury forwards seemed unable to locate Goddard's basket although many easy opportunities presented themselves. On the other hand, the shooting of Kopf and Carroll of Goddard was deadly in its accuracy. The half ended 8 to 10 in favor of Goddard, six of their points being made on consecutive fouls.

In the second half Middlebury, strengthened by substitutes started a rally which bid fair to overcome Goddard's lead, but the final whistle found the Seconds still four points behind, Goddard shooting the final basket as the game ended. The game was well played and deserved a larger attendance.

The next game is with Rutland High School on March 23 at Middlebury. Thus far Rutland is undefeated and is making a strong bid for the the state championship among secondary schools. They won at Rutland; can they repeat here? A good game is assured.

Summary and line-up:

Goddard (26)		Midd 2nds (22)
Smith	lf.	Holbrook,Davis
Welch	rg.	E. Ross
Carroll	c.	C. Parker
Kopf	rf.	Crippen, Ginsburg

Baskets from the floor: Goddard—Kopf 6, Carroll 2, Slayton 2.

ENTERTAINMENT FOR W. S. C.

On Friday March 15 an entertainment was given at Vergennes under the auspices of Principal W. H. Carter, Middlebury 1910 of Vergennes High School.

Professor Hathaway rendered a number of piano solos, James Searles sang a few selections and Professor Davison entertained the audience with readings.

Campus Board Meeting

Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock a meeting of the Campus Board was held. Percy Fellows '20 was elected an associate business manager and Ruth Baldwin '20 and Marie Kilbride '21 were made assistant associate business managers. The business of the present Board was completed as far as possible in view of the annual election which will take place Tuesday afternoon, March 25, at 4 o'clock. Barbara Russell tendered her resignation as assistant business manager of The Campus but was asked to reconsider her decision.

Mildred Cady '19 will be unable to play basketball for the remainder of the season owing to an injury to her foot. She will continue to act as captain of the junior team.

must be proficient in their special line of work as well as experts in bayonet duelling. All must go through a great deal of preliminary training before every attack, so that they may become familiar with the structure of the opposing trenches and the topography of the country over which they must advance.

The speaker also explained the camp life and army conditions in this country. He said that at Camp Green, South Carolina, where he has been this winter, there are from 30,000 to 35,000 men stationed. Contrary to popular belief the camp life is good and general conditions greatly improved over former years.

Captain Gibson is well known to some of the students of the College, for prior to his enlistment he was Judge Gibson of Brattleboro. This is his second period of service for his country as he was in the army up to 1903, when he resigned. He expects to set up a recruiting station at the Court House within the next week.

Intercollegiate Notes

E. W. Bowman, Vermont's first baseman of last year, has been signed up by the Chicago Nationals and will report to his club on April 12.

Bowman, who is a sophomore at the University, was prominent in athletics there, having played fullback on the football team in the fall of his freshman year. He played in the Montreal City League last summer, and has received many offers to play for minor leagues. He is one of the few men to be taken into major football from the state. His home is in Proctor.

Colby College observed a "Recognition Week" March 11-15. Addresses were given each night by members of the faculty. The purpose of the meetings was "to present to the men of Colby life as it is today; to recognize the part our brothers are taking in the war, and to face our own duty as patriotic citizens and as Christian men." The meetings were held under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A.

Wrestling Finals

The wrestling finals were run off on Wednesday, the 13th. There were four bouts. Keppler threw Mead with a half Nelson and bar hold in 12 min. Bower threw Carlson with a three quarter Nelson in 6 min. Pierce threw Carpentier with a bar and crotch hold in 9 min. Pitkin threw Noonan with a double arm hold in 3 min.

These four men will represent Midd against Vermont in the track meet, April 13. The postponement of the meet was caused by an epidemic of mumps at the University. This will be quite an advantage and make it possible for the men to work in a lot more needed practice.

The men are all working finely but have not yet developed that necessary instinct of timing their movements. This however can be secured only through constant practice, but once achieved, it is one of the best weapons of a wrestler.
